

Footrot

- A contagious bacterial disease.
- Infection occurs in the cleft between the claws.
- It causes redness, heat, a swollen foot, pain and lameness
- Footrot is usually treated with antibiotics.
- See Factsheet A